

WHY LOOK FOR A NEEDLE IN A HAYSTACK WHEN THERE ARE PLENTY AT: PROVISIONS WEEKEND! (MARCH 1-3, 2024)

Pilgrim, if thar be one thin' I lernt in life, it's that doin' stuffs on yer own takes way longer than doin' stuffs with a body who done knows how already. So take my advice and get ye to a place where ye can be learnt on crafts for yer survival. And ifen ye are feelin' lost on where to go, ye might as well go up to that there Provisions Weekend, since those boys are pretty learnt in crafty thin's already.

Just bring the supplies ye need and them boys can help. Ye will want to plan yer craft, tools needed, and pattern, and ifen ye are missin' som of these here items, reach out 'cause somebody probably has one they be willin' to lent out at this here event. Vittles to share would be a real blessin' so please bring one or two for lunch grazin'. Ye will also want some beddin', and personal items of coarse, and before ye pack yer jammies the cook says to make sure to pack yer cup!

Rumors have it that there be a fancy tin smith comin' to teach that, and supplies for a primitive backpack that can be built will be there. I'll tell ya when I know more about monies and such for these.

Meals will be served up for Friday supper, Saturday breakfast, Saturday supper, and Sunday breakfast as usual. With open grazin' for lunch on Saturday, so again remember to bring a dish to pass and a cup for yer beverage.

Bring extra supplies and tools if ye like. Ye never know who'n might be blessed by the extra fixins.

Monies will be paid to Frostbite at $60 per Old Timer, $30 per Young Buck, and $30 for comin' just fer Saturday only. They done would appreciate it if ye register by February 22rd. Ye can do that by mail (send a $20 monies with), or by emailing Frostbite direct like. Bunks are limited to about the first 50 of ye, so don't dilly-dally pilgrim!

God bless,
